Dear General Griswold:

On behalf of the Central Intelligence Agency group which visited your Headquarters on 11 December 1957 I should like to express our appreciation for the most interesting and stimulating briefing provided to us. Our awareness of the significant role which intelligence plays in the tremendously important mission of the Strategic Air Command has been greatly increased.

Please express our appreciation to your many fine officers who gave their time to the preparation and presentation of this most informative program. I should like particularly to thank Colonel Robert N. Smith, Colonel C. D. Dalton, and Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Condon who, as your representatives, were directly responsible for planning and staffing the program.

Sincerely,

/s/

L. K. White
